STYLES THAT ARE APPROVED IN THE WORLD OF FASHION

All About the Wedding Toilets That Are in Favor with New York Brides How

Autumn brides are allowed considerable the lovely and artistic cat-tails should be license in the matter of their wedding dresses. They may select for its material ivory white winter decorations and dried bouquets China silk or fine white wool fabrics, among ported one. It is of cream colored Irish poplin, with Limerick lace draped on the skirt which must be nicely bemmed at the and looped with sprays of orange blossoms. The bodice is arranged to correspond with the skirt in style, being trimmed with Limof the cut, the lace trimming of the corsage forms a sort of V snaped fichu. It will also be observed that the high standing collar basturned down points. Orange blossoms are placed high on the left side of the corsage. Very high corsages are in favor this senson, especially for church weddings. Talle is a favorable material for bridal veils. At recent New York weddings, where little girls have acted as attendants, they have been dressed in white China silk or nun's veiling, with accordion plaited skirts, and large hats with garnitures of white plumes, and carry baskets of roses, ferns or yellow flowers, as the bride may prefer.

Tulles and Laces for Ball Gowns. Tulles for ball gowns are embreidered with flowers in natural colors, and intended to be used for the fronts of dresses; others have designs in chemile spots of two tones. Some have the triple pea spots in chenille at distances and others large stars in silver or gold. Others, again, have light metallic sprays mingled with spangles, which give them much distinction. Mechlin net, in-all colors and very wide widths, can be had at & low price, and are really more durable for young girls' dresses than the Cambery tulie. The laces are nearly all of the Velasquez order this year-that is, arranged in distinct points, and some of Calais and Lyons makes are effective looking without being expensive. The patterns are of the Irish point order and prove effective when applied as garniture. A decided novelty in Chantilly lices has the Office Hours: 7 to 9 A.M., I to 3 P.M., after 7 P.M. pattern wrought in subdued colors instead of dack. A great deal of ribbon is employe
